Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert will make their home for the present on her farm near Cloverport.

Below Zero at Kirk.

W. L. Withers went to Louisville Monday, and said at Kirk, the weather registered 4 below zero.

The Herald Misinformed.

The Herald desires to call attention to an article published on its first page, column 7, of November 4, 1915, in which it was erroneously reported that Mr. Wade Pile, of Mook Precinct, Breckenridge county, had participated in election irregularities. The Herald now desires to state that it was misinformed concerning Mr. Pile and disavows any statements in that article concerning him.—Louisville Herald.

Gets Promotion.

Eugene McGary, a Breckenridge county young man, has been made foreman of the manufacturing department of the Sheet Metal Specialty Co., of Goshen, Ind. Mr. McGary commenced work for this company as a regular hand last November. His promotion speaks well for his work and his ability as a mechanic.

Trains on Time.

The Henderson Route is going through the flood and bad weather without a break in trains. Its service is good and trains on time, both on the main line and branch.

The Weather Changeth Not.

The oldest weather diary known to be in existence was kept by a Lincolnshire parson, William Merle, close on 600 years ago. From 1337 to 1344 he wrote it up, often day by day, in Latin, and his manuscript, being on vellum, was somehow preserved and is now in the Bodleian. Merle did not trouble himself with the popular lore about "skye influences," but stuck to an accurate record of fact. In the spirit at least of the modern meteorologists. And from his jottings it seems that he had pretty much as folks in his parish of Friby experience now. Contrary to theory, the changes of six centuries have not reduced the number of wet days in the year.—London Chronicle.

Vanilla Beans.

The vanilla bean is the costliest bean in the world. It flourishes in Mexico, chiefly in Papantla and Misantla. It grows wild and is gathered and marketed by the natives. Just as they come from the forests the beans sell at $10 per 1,000. After the beans are dried and cured they are worth from $10 to $11 a pound, according to quality. They are used by druggists and confectioners and are an important article of commerce.

Warning Him.

"My dear, I can give you a satisfactory explanation of my delay in getting home this evening."
"You may have an explanation, Henry, but I can tell you in advance that it won't be satisfactory."—Detroit Free Press.

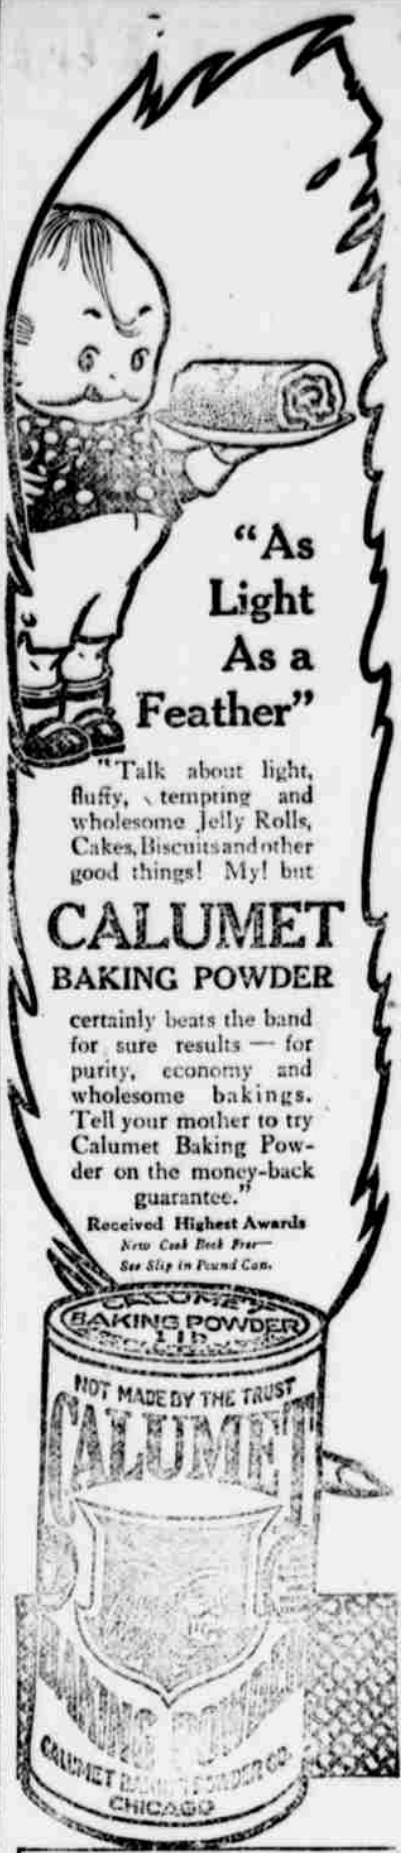

Might Be Worse.

SOLDIERS AND CANES.

English Military Men Must Not Go Out Walking Empty Handed.

It is one of the regulations of the British army that every soldier when walking out must carry in his hand a stick in order to preserve a soldierly appearance and prevent anything like slouching in his gait.

This rule applies to all ranks, and should any one seek to evade it he would find his progress barred by the sentry at the barrack gate or entrance to camp.

Privates generally carry light canes or "swagger sticks," non-commissioned officers fairly stout sticks, and officers invariably go in for the more expensive kind. It is a question that has often been asked, Who first suggested the idea? But nobody seems to know.

From the earliest times drill sergeants and drum majors have carried sticks, and the fashion may have come from that fact. Soldiers as a rule buy their own sticks, but in one or two regiments a recruit is presented with one when he gets his uniform. If this gets lost, however, he has to buy the next and subsequent ones.

There is a story told of a soldier one day who couldn't find his cane and, knowing he would be challenged if he didn't have something in his hand, quietly picked up a poker and passed through the gate all right with it in his fist.—Dundee Advertiser.

TO REGULATE OCEAN RATES

British Government Fixes Price to Be Charged on Cotton Shipments.

New York (Special): The British government has fixed an ocean rate of two dollars a hundred pounds on cotton shipped from this country to England in British vessels with confiscation of the offending ship as a penalty for overcharge, according to advisers received by cotton traders here.

The prevailing rates on cotton to Great Britain from American ports, now are said to range from $2.60 to $3 a hundred pounds, the high rates being induced by shortage in tonnage.
